

Making Sense of Sustainability

WORKSHOP FOR LOCAL AUTHORITY PLANNERS

Planners must now play a leading role in delivering a “sustainable” built environment for the UK.

Making Sense of Sustainability helps planners get to grips with sustainable design, construction and energy, and to develop new confidence in applying sustainability criteria to development applications. This one-day workshop is open to planners from any authority and will give participants the opportunity to learn and put this knowledge into practice

Tuesday 23 January, 2007

10am – 4pm

At Futerra

84 Long Lane, SE1 4AU

One-Day Workshop

This interactive workshop, held in London, covers:

- > what is “sustainable development” and why is sustainable building important?
- > The economics of sustainable property
- > Making sustainable design and construction part of the planning process
- > Introduction to sustainable planning policy at national, regional and local levels
- > Understanding the BREEAM and EcoHomes assessment methods
- > Overview of energy efficiency and renewable energy technologies
- > How to assess renewable energy options and calculate carbon emissions
- > Case studies of the UK’s most outstanding sustainable property developments
- > How to ensure that the build matches the sustainable design

Booking Form

Workshops are limited to a maximum of 20 participants. The cost is £200 per participant to include a take-home CD-ROM containing the course materials including case studies, tools and exercises. You will need to complete a separate booking form for each attendee.

How to book

- 1 Contact Erica Jobson on 020 7378 4011 or erica@futerra.co.uk
- 2 Complete both sides of this booking form in full. We suggest you retain a copy of the form for your records.
- 3 Fax a copy of the form to 020 7357 9367 or post the form to us at Futerra, 84 Long Lane, London SE1 4AU

Your Details

Name _____
Job title _____
Organisation _____
Address _____
Telephone number _____
Email _____
Any special dietary or access requirements _____

About the trainers

Making Sense of Sustainability is delivered by a partnership of three specialist organisations:

Futerra

Experts in training and communications for sustainable development. Futerra's clients include The London Borough of Brent, Westminster City Council, Department for the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (Defra).

www.futerra.co.uk

Creative Environmental Networks (CEN)

A not-for-profit organisation that helps communities, businesses and consumers to make environmental and social improvements. CEN has delivered training on renewable energy for 27 local planning authorities.

www.cen.org.uk

ECD Project Services:

Environmental consultants specialising in low environmental-impact design. ECD advises on sustainable procurement, opportunities for sustainable design and the environmental profile of new schemes.

www.ecdps.co.uk

Terms and Conditions

The personal information provided by you will be held on a database, but will not be made available to any third party.

We reserve the right to cancel a workshop due to unforeseen circumstances and offer an alternative date, a credit or a refund, without liability for any consequential or indirect loss.

Participants may cancel their place on a workshop and receive a full refund at any time after booking until 5 working days before the workshop date. Credit notes will be issued where possible after this date. Places on a course can be transferred to another person until the workshop begins. All requests for cancellation or transfer must be received in writing. Where participants fail to attend, full fees are payable.

Payment

Please tick your chosen payment method:

Cheque enclosed with this booking form

Cheque following in the post

Please make cheque payable to Futerra Sustainability Communications Ltd

Please send me an invoice

Your reference (e.g. purchase order number) _____

Invoices will be issued upon receipt of this form, and are payable within 30 days.

Invoice details (if different from your details):

Name _____

Address _____

Telephone number _____

Email _____